SERIOUSLY. IDK WHAT IS HAPPENING

You've got this. Here's what's going on...

YOUR CASE IS HEADING TO COURT

Yeah, it's going to take a while. Might be a few days, might be a couple of years. Really, no one knows until it just happens. And you'll be asked to testify, but that comes later. It's pretty straightforward.

You'll see people like you see on Netflix. Judges, bailiffs, and juries. We've got a bunch listed here: incacs.org/court/courtroom-players/

YOUR ADVOCATE IS AVAILABLE FOR YOU, TOO, NOT JUST YOUR RENTS

Your Advocate's name + number:

GOOD VIBES

Ready for court & Good to go

Don't I have rights? Yes. Yes you absolutely do.

YOU HAVE THE RIGHT TO BE SAFE, HEARD, AND MORE, LIKE:

- Ask questions
- Not to be harmed
- Not to be asked rude questions
- Have a trusted adult with you
- Be told of the court's decisions

More questions? Keep 'em coming.

OKAY!

AM I IN TROUBLE?

Nope.

CAN I BRING MY PHONE AND STUFF?

Maybe. Phone, watch, headphones, even a Switch 2 if you've got one are fine in some courthouses, but not others. Ask your Advocate!

WILL I HAVE TO TESTIFY?

Maybe. If you do, you'll take an oath (no, it's usually not on a Bible). Then, just answer questions truthfully and honestly. You'll do great!

My potential is limitless
